About Me

Game development, for me, is about creating worlds that ignite joy, excitement, and connection. It's where art meets technology, and creativity fuels problem-solving. With 2+ years of experience, I specialize in crafting engaging combat systems and immersive gameplay using C++ and Java. Every project is a chance to push boundaries, refine mechanics, and optimize performance. Game development isn't just my job, it's my passion, my obsession, and the heartbeat of everything I build
